Royal Westmoreland, Barbados

Royal Westmoreland, a family-friendly golf, beach and spa estate in Barbados, is offering a new holiday that puts mothers first. Daily chores of cooking, cleaning, and organising activities are all taken care of so mothers can unwind and enjoy time with their family. The 'Mums First' package includes a family BBQ on the night of arrival, grocery shopping, babysitting, a spa session for mum and more. Families stay in the Royal Villas which have three en-suite bedrooms and gardens.

Formentera Yoga, three locations

Founded by leading yoga and pilates instructor Jacqueline Lysycia, Formentera Yoga delivers healthy holiday retreats for yoga, hiking, kayaking and raw food. With retreats offered on the Balearic islands of Formentera and Ibiza from March, as well as a new ski and snow retreat in Gstaad, these are the ultimate restorative holidays. Childcare is available if both partners attend and want to do yoga, and older children can even take part in the practise.

Playtime in Paris

Paris is a magical place for all ages and an easy jaunt from London. But to keep everyone relaxed, we asked Magali Déchelette of Family Twist for her top tips:

- Book an apartment within a five-star hotel so you have all the hotel amenities but with more freedom (and most likely a kitchen)
- Visit places kids will love, such as the Cité des Sciences or the Jardin du Luxembourg
- Let a professional guide escort you to the city's hotspots and give you more insight into the culture and history
